Browse API

User can simply browse through the services shown in the webpage. Alternatively, user can type in the search box keywords, for example name service provider, service category, to filter the results.

In each result, the specifications can be:

- Viewed in raw format using the JSON, YAML or Orig buttons.
- Viewed in visualized interface, with Docs or Swagger UI button (the submenu Tools needs to be expanded to show these buttons)
- Edited with buttons Swagger Editor or OpenAPI GUI. The changes are not saved into the catalogue. To submit these changes, please create a Github issue or Pull Request for review.

Add API

To add a new API into the catalogue, click Add API menu in top bar and fill in the form.

Once done, clicking the Add API button at the end will open a GitHub page where user can create a GitHub Issue with all the required information.

The submitted GitHub Issue will be processed, reviewed and updated in the catalogue.

This page is help you to submit your API into the APIs.guru directory. The most important requirement is the presence of a machine-readable API definition in one of the popular formats, such as: OpenAPI (the Swagger), RAML, API Blueprint, etc.

Important note: we only aggregate API definitions, not host them. So please, provide us with a stable URL to the definition. We will use it to keep your definition up to date: see our update procedure.

Format of the definition:

☒ OpenAPI 3.0 details☐ OpenAPI 2.0 (the Swagger) details☐ API Blueprint details☐ Google API Discovery details☐ RAML details☐ Postman Collection details☐ WADL details

Is the definition official ?
